WIDEN SEARCH FOR TWO LOCAL MISSING BOYS

Borough police turned toward New York today in their search for two 16-year-old youths missing since Monday.

Officers said today they have asked New York City authorities to be on the lookout for William Gideon, 16, son of Dr. Sarah B. Gideon, Baltimore St., and William Jarvis, 16, son of Prof. and Mrs. Chester Jarvis, Seven Stars, with the hope that the young men may be touring that city.

The two left Monday morning in a blue 1960 Valiant. When they failed to return Monday night, Mrs. Gideon notified police. The local authorities checked here and notified state police to send out a teletype generally giving descriptions of the two youths. Washington was one of the areas particularly asked to look for the young men on the belief they might be touring there.

At the time the two left Gettysburg, the Gideon youth was wearing a dark brown suit, white shirt and buck shoes. The Jarvis youth wore dark pants, a white shirt, string tie and a white sports jacket, according to the descriptions provided police.

The license number of the automobile is R99-613. It is owned by Mrs. Gideon.

Police said Prof. and Mrs. Jarvis were visiting in Canada while their son remained here. Upon learning of his disappearance, they returned home.

Young, Sleepy Truck Driver Held In Manslaughter Death Of State Trooper, Motorist

STRAFFORD, Pa. (AP) — William E. Heinrichs, 17, of Jamison, Pa., pleaded guilty Friday to two counts of involuntary manslaughter in the traffic deaths of a state trooper and a motorist on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The teen-ager said he had been driving a truck for over 20 hours when he "blacked out for five or 10 seconds," ran off the highway, and struck Trooper Francis S. Tessitore, 28, of Hazleton, and James A. Mullin, 26, of Lansdowne, a salesman, near the Valley Forge interchange.

Pennsylvania law requires commercial drivers to be at least 18 years old. Tessitore had ordered Mullin off the road to question him about a traffic violation, state police said. They went behind the Mullin's car to talk.

Heinrichs said he was traveling at about 40 m.p.h. He said he was very sleepy and was rubbing his eyes with one hand and had the other on the wheel when the collision occurred.

Tessitore was thrown some 15 feet up an embankment and died on the scene. Mullin was pinned between the truck and the car. The vehicles had to be pried apart by winches and crowbars to free him. He was dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital, Norristown.

Set $6,000 Bail State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney said in Harrisburg: "This is a tragic accident, doubly tragic because it was caused by a violation of the law."

Finnish Exchange Student Arrives In Arendtsville

A 17-year-old, wide-eyed blonde Finnish girl is the Arendtsville area's latest resident. The young woman, Miss Nina Anneli Rydman, of Helsinki, the exchange student under the American Field Service program, will spend the next year with Rev. and Mrs. Frantz and their daughter, Carol Lee, Rev. Frantz is pastor of the United Church of Christ both in Arendtsville and Biglerville.

Miss Rydman's first reaction to America when she was met at the Harrisburg train station by the Frantz was a comment on the "hot, muggy" weather and the friendliness of Americans.

Anneli, as she prefers to be called, flew from Helsinki after stops at Ireland and Newfoundland. On the plane, she was accompanied by 110 exchange students, 65 from Finland and the rest from Denmark.

Studied English She landed at Idlewild airport and was lucky enough to see New York City at night from the Empire State building. She said it was a very impressive sight.

Having studied English for six years, Miss Rydman, who will be 18 on December 18, is rapidly grasping our language, and once she gets on to our slang, she says, English will be so much easier. She has also studied Swedish in high school. Anneli will be a member of the senior class at Biglerville and will probably pursue an academic course. She hopes to be a private secretary or teacher of foreign language later in life.

Anneli's parents, Kai and Nina Rydman, live in a suburb of Helsinki on Taitaanvuhentie 14 A 7 St., and, in the summer, journey to their summer cottage about 35 miles from Helsinki. So actually, the change from Helsinki to Arendtsville will not affect Anneli too much, she says, because she is used to the country.

Mr. Rydman is a salesman for a printing company which has affiliations in the United States. They got their first taste of exchange students when Stu Rubins, respondingly held by Rev. Frantz in the Arendtsville area.

Anneli has one brother, Juhani, 19, and one sister, Kristina, 13. Her activities include much dancing, swimming and riding. She was a member of the Finnish-British society and, during the summer of 1957, lived in England. Her other extra-curricular activities include choir, Girl Scout, film club, student council, piano playing and membership in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Finland. She says that about 95 per cent of the people belong to this affiliation, and it is more commonly known as the state church.

Hectic Pace The first impression of Rev. and Mrs. Frantz, and daughter, Carol Lee, was "I think they are lovely, I already feel at home." The first day in town, she was treated to a tour of the Upper Adams area and a shopping trip in Gettysburg.

Sunday afternoon, the Frantz family and Anneli plan to leave for a three-day trip to Atlantic City, and, later this month, will drive to North Carolina, where the Frantz' elder son will attend Catawba College. Next on the itinerary for Miss Rydman will be the South Mountain Fair.

What does Anneli think of the Exchange program? Her father summed it up in a letter to Rev. Frantz earlier this summer: "I hope the correspondence between our two countries will grow into a warm friendship, and then for its part, contribute to create an atmosphere of good will in a world and at a time when understanding between nations is a desperate and urgent necessity."

Security Council Called Into Emergency Session

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Three Congolese ministers decided today to follow Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to New York for Sunday night's U. N. Security Council showdown on dissident Katanga Province.

On the way they plan to confer with Premier Patrice Lumumba, now touring west Africa countries. He may abandon his trip, turn around, and return to New York for the council session.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was hastening back to New York today for an emergency Security Council session after scrapping plans to send troops into the rebellious province of Katanga.

Hammarskjöld called the council meeting on the turbulent Congo for Sunday night after his trouble shooter, Ralph J. Bunche, warned him entry into secessionist Katanga would bring bloodshed.

Bunche became convinced of the danger after conferring in Elisabethville with Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe who vowed he would use force to keep out U. N. troops.

"Anything Can Happen" "We are back where we started," said one U. N. diplomat glumly. "Anything may happen now."

U. N. officials grimly awaited reaction of the Congolese government which has insisted the new republic's No. 1 problem is to keep copper-rich Katanga in the fold.

They recalled a warning by Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba that his government would consider radical measures if Belgian troops.

$2 MILLIONS WILL BE SPENT BY 4 JOINTURES

More than $2,100,000 will be expended during the coming year by the school districts comprising the four joint school districts and two independent school districts under the county superintendent of schools according to their budgets filed with the county superintendent's office.

The amount does not include the proposed expenditures of the Gettysburg and Upper Adams districts which report directly to the state.

According to the reports, 21 districts reporting will spend $2,040,843 and the four jointures, in addition to spending the amounts provided them by the districts, will spend $70,100 more representing state, federal funds and balances. One additional district, Union, has yet to report its budget, which will make all totals higher.

Most Funds From Outside

According to the reports, the state and federal governments will pay more toward the operation of the schools than the people of the county. The local taxes, balances, tuition, etc., reported by the districts total $788,670.87. The state reimbursement is reported at $1,150,032. The remainder making up the $2,110,000 is from federal funds, sale of school buildings, returns from insurance policies and all the other miscellaneous income listed.

PRESERVATION GROUP CAN BUY "MEALS FARM" FOR $175,000

Next step of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association will probably be to purchase land of the Adams Realty Corporation lying south and east of Oak Ridge, the board of directors decided at a meeting Friday night at the Hotel Gettysburg.

No action was taken immediately pending a meeting with the executive director, Marshall Allen, who was admitted to the Warner Hospital suffering from a kidney stone ailment Friday.

An agreement with Adams Realty to purchase the property of the company representing approximately 120 acres of land for $175,000 was read at the meeting.

Covers Former Meals Farms

The agreement provides for purchase of the shares of stock of the three present owners, Philip M. Jones, Clark S. Smith and Franklin R. Bigham, which would give the association the land owned by the company, the former Meals farm.

The agreement provided for a down payment of $6,000, plus additional payments at regular intervals which would result in the complete payment of the $175,000 over a two-year period.

To Study Prospects

Members of the board were in agreement over the desirability of making purchase but decided to delay action on the agreement until they could study anticipated revenues to determine whether funds could reasonably be expected to be on hand quickly enough to reach the deadlines set for the payments or whether a new agreement should be sought to spread out the time of payment in line with the anticipated income.

John J. Coughlin, Harrisburg, vice president of the board, presided at the meeting.

He announced that the annual meeting, to which all who donated toward the fund are invited, will be held November 19.

NEW PROTESTS FOR SCHOOL BD.

The Fairfield Joint School Board will hear further suggestions from patrons when they hold their next meeting, John G. Luntz, who was active in a protest filed with the board at its meeting last Monday, reported today.

Luntz said a number of patrons with whom he met remain dissatisfied with the decision of the board to place all Fourth Graders in the Orrtanna School. The board held that the grading was necessary to continue state subsidy of approximately $10,000.

Luntz said his group will suggest that the school board provide either an advanced language course in the high school or provide foreign language training in the elementary grades as the "improvement" needed to obtain the $10,000 subsidy. He said such courses would prove of more value to the students than grading which can take place several years from now when additional school rooms are constructed at the Fairfield joint school. He added that further demands are going to be made that school bus contracts be granted by public bidding.

Luntz said he and his group plan to continue attending meetings of the school board and "urge others to do so."

STATE URGING HIGH COURT TO REVERSE BAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Abington Township School Board want the U. S. Supreme Court to reverse a federal court order banning compulsory Bible reading in the township's public schools.

Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern and counsel for the school board asked the high court Friday to throw out a September, 1959, ruling of the eastern Pennsylvania U. S. District Court, which said a state law requiring daily Bible reading was unconstitutional.

The three-judge court ruled the law provided for establishment of religion and interfered with the free exercise of religion.

The court had acted on a petition filed by Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Schemp, of Roslyn, a Philadelphia suburb.

The school board's appeal questioned the jurisdiction of the district court since the matter had been acted on first by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The commonwealth said the matter must be clarified not only for Abington Township but for the 2,300 school districts in the state.

The statute that the district court had declared unconstitutional was amended in December, 1959 to permit teachers to excuse children from Bible readings if they presented a written request from their parents.

GRAVE DIGGER SENT TO JAIL

AYLESBURY, England (AP)—David Hillier was his father's right-hand man and when he got drafted into the army the town council could find no one to fill his job.

That worried David Hillier. The worry preyed on his mind.

It wasn't long before Pvt. Hillier went AWOL.

He came back to Aylesbury and for 10 days toiled manfully with a spade that went with his old job.

Then the army caught up with him and sentenced him to 28 days detention.

The Aylesbury Town Council is pressing for Hillier's release claiming his absence causes them "grave difficulty."

Said Arthur Hillier, David's father: "I realize my son did wrong in coming home like this, but he felt he owed it to the community."

Looking out over the 15,776 graves in Aylesbury Cemetery of which he is the superintendent, the elder Hillier added: "It may sound odd to some people that gravediggers take as much pride in their work as anyone else."

"David can dig a beautiful grave."

Heart Attack Kills Allentown Newsmen

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Robert K. Hawk, 40, carrier supervisor for the Allentown Call-Chronicle newspapers, died of a heart attack as he prepared to drive home from work here Thursday night.

Hawk, known in eastern Pennsylvania as a former stock car driver and later an owner of stock cars, is survived by his widow and four children. Funeral services will be held Tuesday. He was a native of Bethlehem.

MANORBIER, Wales (AP)—Twenty-one girls of the Women's Royal Army Corps rebelled today against an 11 p. m. curfew. They say it's interfering with their romantic life.

The leader of the revolt, Pvt. Elizabeth McConnachie, 17, said "We felt we were being treated like children and that we were not being trusted. A lot of the girls' boy friends were displeased at having to bring them back so early. It was very frustrating."

The WRACS staged a midnight demonstration on the camp parade square. They refused to move until an army patrol—all men—was sent out to herd them into the camp jailhouse.

The rebels won the first round. The army promised to investigate their complaints and released them without even a bad conduct mark.

PRELATE RAPS RED SLAVERY AT CONGRESS

By FRANK BRUTTO
MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, today described communism as "the most dangerous since 1939."

The cardinal spoke on "American Day" of the Roman Catholic church's World Eucharistic Congress to a packed audience in Munich's Cathedral.

His attack against communism was the harshest denunciation of it yet heard at this congress which has brought pilgrims here from all parts of the world, except Communist-ruled lands.

Today's Conflict
He said that the conflict today "is again between freedom and slavery," and described communism as a "wild beast of the forest" and "dragged with lust for power."

"In these peaceless, imperiled times," said Cardinal Spellman, "daily we learn of new and more imminent Communist promoted crisis throughout the World I in Cuba and Latin America, in East Germany and the international waters of the Barents Sea, in China and the Congo—all ominous testimonies to the fast approaching possibility of the death of world freedom, the once fantastic now realistic threat of Soviet Russia."

"Thus, in this, the most dangerous summer since 1939, this international Eucharistic Congress, with its prayerful purpose to sustain the life of the world through dedication to God, is of vast and urgent import to all peoples and all nations."

The vast audience included virtually all of the American colony in Munich and thousands of American pilgrims from the United States.

Cardinal Spellman described the congress, which has been attacked by Communist papers, as "a physical as well as a spiritual symbol of the miraculous, indomitable power of perpetual prayer."

Today was "Day of Light" in the eucharistic congress which comes to an end Sunday with the radio address of Pope John XXIII.

GIVES BIBLE ADVICE

BOSTON (AP)—"The Bible is a human book," the Rev. Jack Mendelsohn of Boston told a religious educators. "We cherish it and seek to have our children know and love it as a part of their religious heritage, but superstitions of the Bible are an idolatry quite out of keeping with today's spiritual problems."

Record Shows Presidential Candidates Not Far Apart On Many U.S. Labor Issues

Editor's note — How do the presidential candidates compare in their approach to labor-management matters? A veteran reporter on the labor beat looks at the record in this last of a series of articles on the great campaign issues.

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Try to chart the Nixon, Kennedy positions on big issues, and you'll find the picture is not all black-and-white. There are gray areas, too.

This is true of labor-management problems, as well as many others.

Many a union official will tell you that, if past records are a guide, Richard M. Nixon can be expected to side with employers in any labor-management showdown, and John F. Kennedy with employees.

Look At Gray Areas
The labor men point to a number of past decisions to back up this thesis.

An examination of the gray areas, however, turns up evidence for an argument that the two presidential rivals are closer together on some labor issues than is generally imagined.

Either, if elected, would undoubtedly proclaim that he was operating for the best interests of the country as a whole, rather than taking sides in the continuing labor-management conflict.

Steel Strike Role
The newly adopted platforms of both parties, moreover, pledge they will cultivate labor-management discussions toward improving the climate of industrial relations.

Sticking out in Nixon's record is his personal role in settling the big steel strike early this year.

Nixon stepped quietly into the deadlock, warning both sides they faced an unwanted, directed settlement by Congress unless they got together on an agreement.

Both Sides Were Happy
In secret meetings, many held in his own home here, Nixon chalked out the settlement terms. Neither side got all it wanted but both sides were happy that Nixon got them off the hook and got steel production rolling again.

Kennedy has been a fighter for organized labor's cause ever since he entered Congress in 1947. That was the year the Taft-Hartley law was enacted, over bitter union opposition. Nixon favored the law.

Kennedy, then just 30 years old, was among those who kept the T-H legislation from becoming worse than it was from the labor union standpoint.

Played Effective Role
This is a role Kennedy has played effectively and consistently in Congress to date—including the maneuvering in enacting the Landrum-Griffin law last year.

Here again Kennedy led the forces that helped modify new restrictions placed on unions.

But it's a mistake to tag Kennedy as a down-the-line backer of any old kind of labor union. As chairman of the Senate's labor law drafting subcommittee it was he who wrote much of the anticorporate union controls into the 1959 law.

And the Democratic nominee's brother and current campaign manager, Robert F. Kennedy, was counsel to the McClellan committee that turned up the union scandals which led to the Landrum-Griffin law.

Prepared Scorecard
A scorecard comparison of the labor voting records of Nixon and Kennedy has been prepared by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education. Going back to the start of the two men's congressional careers it rates Kennedy as voting 100 per cent right on labor bills by AFL-CIO standards and Nixon only 6.7 per cent right.

On a broader comparison of general interest legislation the AFL-CIO score is Kennedy 90.2 per cent and Nixon 22.9 per cent.

Differences between the two nominees are likely to be pinpointed when Congress reconvenes on Aug. 8.

On the controversial question of health care for the aged, Nixon prefers a federal-state subsidy financing arrangement. But Kennedy wants a broader program financed by increased social security taxes.

Kennedy To Get Most
On the federal minimum wage, also a hot issue for the resumed session, Nixon favors a moderate increase in the present dollar-an-hour minimum. Kennedy is sponsoring the Democratic bill for a $1.25 level.

Both industry and labor feel Nixon is more inclined toward business than toward labor. But they concede he has become far more liberal in recent years. In this, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is credited with having been a major influence. Example: Nixon's rejection of "right-to-work" laws.

The unions are expected to side mostly with Kennedy in the election campaign. But they are suspicious, it is plain, that with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas on the Democratic ticket they may be buying a lot more conservative combination than they would like.

EISENHOWERS LEAVE SUNDAY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower divides his time today between vacation-end relaxation and preparation for the return of Congress.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will close out their seaside stay Sunday afternoon and fly back to Washington. They arrived in Newport July 7 and have been here since except for six days last week in Chicago and Denver.

Eisenhower is returning to the capital for the reconvening of the Senate Monday.

Present indications are that early next week the President will set forth a program of legislation which he will prod Congress to act upon in the post-conventions session expected to last until at least Labor Day.

May Go On Tv
Eisenhower's call for action may be in a nationwide television-radio address, a special message to the Senate, or a combination of both.

Eisenhower spent most of Friday afternoon working at the summer White House with Bryce N. Harlow, his top liaison man with Congress. The President's son and aide, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, also sat in.

Another round of preparatory work was arranged for today. But in advance of that the President scheduled 18 holes of golf at the Newport Country Club course.

MISS GUISE

and gladioli. Mrs. C. William Settle, organist, played a brief recital preceding the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches. Charles Yost, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Greatest of These Is Love" and during the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

The matron of honor, Mrs. Barry Ferich, Philadelphia, college roommate of the bride, wore an aqua gown of silk organza over taffeta, with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a deep hemline with a front panel of aqua embroidery trimming topped with a large bow. She wore a matching aqua picture hat of silk organza and lace. She carried a basket arrangement of summer flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Ann Deardorff, Arendtsville, and Miss Eleanor Storch, Arlington, Va., were attired in pink gowns and hats identical to that of the matron of honor. They also carried baskets of summer flowers.

Others In Party
Robert Hopkinson, Roslyn, cousin of the groom, was best man. Larry Guise, Biglerville, brother of the bride; George Setman IV, David McLaughlin and Robert McLaughlin, Quakertown, brothers of the groom, were ushers. Kennedy Guise Jr., Biglerville, brother of the bride, was acolyte and Mark Setman, Quakertown, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer.

Donna Mae Thompson, Shiremanstown, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore an aqua gown with a white overskirt. She wore also a headband of daisies and carried a basket of summer flowers.

The bride's mother wore a baby blue silk organza sheath with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink-toned cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore a pink lace sheath with matching accessories. Her corsage was of green-toned cymbidium orchids.

Reception For 250
A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social room for approximately 250 guests. For their wedding trip to Swans Island and Canada, the bride wore a navy two-piece dress with navy accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon return the couple will reside in the Tremont Apts., Allentown.

The groom, a graduate of Central High School, Philadelphia, and Gettysburg College, is a district Scout executive in Allentown. The bride, a graduate of Biglerville High School and West Chester State College, will begin teaching first grade at the Jefferson Elementary School, Allentown, in September.

The out-of-town guests were from Philadelphia, Allentown, Quakertown, New York, Connecticut, Virginia, Maryland and Ohio.

TWO MATMEN WILL WRESTLE FIFTH TIME

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Doug Blubaugh and Phil Kinyon meet today for the fifth time this week and after 12 minutes of wrestling one of them will finally be Rome-bound with the U.S. Olympic team.

Another major battle today between Shelby Wilson, Ponca City, Okla., and Frank Bettucci, of Ithaca, N.Y. will decide who represents the United States at 147½ free style.

Gets First Edge
Blubaugh got the first edge in the week's long tussle with Kinyon in Friday night's 160½ pound match. The Ponca City grappler got the nod from two of three judges after they had fought to their tenth draw in ten matches. One judge thought Kinyon, of Stillwater, Okla., wrestled the better match.

Terry McCann, 125½ pounder from Tulsa, who many experts believe will win America's first gold medal in wrestling since 1952, won his chance with a split decision over two-time NCAA champion Dave Auble of Ithaca.

Another berth was grabbed by heavyweight Bill Kerslake of Cleveland over Hallow Wilson of the Navy.

Also claiming space on the plane that leaves New York Aug. 14 were Lou Giani, New York City, and Army Lt. Ed Dewitt of Pittsburgh, Pa.

FAIRFIELD LITTLE LEAGUE
A run in the last of the final inning gave the Giants an 8-7 victory over the Cardinals Friday evening following a thrilling contest.

The Giants' victory knotted the two teams for first place. Following the game the managers of the teams agreed there would be no title game played and as a result the Cardinals and Giants will be co-champions.

Gary Deardorff of the Giants poled a bases-loaded home run for the Giants in the second frame to highlight a five-inning rally. The Cardinals knotted the count with four runs in the fourth. After the Giants moved ahead 7-5 with two runs in the fifth, the Cardinals came back in the top of the sixth to tie the count on a pair of runs, one of which came on a home-run by Barry Fitz.

It was announced today that arrangements have been made for two games for the league's All-Star team, both with the Pen-Mar Little League All-Stars of Blue Ridge Summit.

The first game will be played Saturday, August 13, at Blue Ridge, and the second at Fairfield on Saturday, August 20.

Young Red-Minded Castro Blasts U. S., Lauds Reds
BY RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — Raul Castro left no doubt today Cuba has moved solidly into the Soviet economic camp as he welcomed Moscow's aid offers and hurled defiance at any objectors. He also hailed Soviet pledges of military support.

"We don't have to fear an economic blockade," the younger brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro declared in a midnight speech that ran nearly three hours. "They the Soviets buy all that we sell them and they sell us what we need."

Backed By Reds
Appearing on Fidel's usual Friday night TV spot, the peppery defense minister aimed a slap at the Organization of American States which is slated to meet Aug. 16 to discuss Soviet interference in the Western hemisphere and other problems.

"We are grateful for and we accept—we accept—disinterested aid of Soviet artillerymen (rocketeers) despite what the OAS says," Castro told a loudly cheering studio audience.

Fresh from visits to Moscow and Prague, he said Soviet and Czechoslovak officials had prom-

ARMS SESSION IGNORES RED BOYCOTT TALK

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The 82-nation disarmament commission is expected to meet on Aug. 15 or shortly thereafter despite boycott threats by the Soviet Union and other Communist nations.

This was the prospect today after the United States suggested that the most constructive step the commission could take would be to call for a resumption of the deadlocked East-West disarmament negotiations.

In a letter obviously intended to quiet fears of neutral nations that the commission meeting would only heighten existing East-West tensions, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the commission chairman:

"It is not the intention of the United States at this meeting to request the Disarmament Commission to make decisions regarding specific measures of disarmament."

Lodge, the Republican nominee for vice president, plans to resign his post as chief U.N. delegate after taking part in the disarmament proceedings.

Receives Replies
Mexican Ambassador Luis Padilla Nervo, the commission chairman, is receiving replies to a letter asking members of the commission how they felt about a meeting on Aug. 15.

Lodge said the United States "is fully in accord with the proposal that the Disarmament Commission should meet on or about Aug. 15."

President Eisenhower had proposed originally that the commission should meet on Aug. 5.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev objected. He said disarmament should be taken up by the 82-nation U.N. General Assembly, which opens on Sept. 20. He suggested that the heads of governments be invited.

The United States reaction to any world summit conference on disarmament was cool.

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Shenandoah Downs produced a $14,537 Bonanza payoff Friday night, just what it needed to spark the track to its first half-million dollar handle tonight. Born In Russia
Mrs. Gordon was born in Odesa, Russia, and was brought to Canada by her parents in 1904. In 1925 she married Carl Reeve, son of the late Ella Reeve Bloor, a figure regarded by communists as a kind of matriarch of the party.

Carl Reeve was once a communist leader in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The Immigration Service said Mrs. Gordon now lives with her present husband, Eugene Gordon, Negro Affairs editor of the National Guardian, on Manhattan's lower East Side.

She entered this country illegally in 1928, the service said. Since then, it added, she has been involved in disturbances in New York City, Lawrence, Mass., New Haven, Conn., and Philadelphia.

He added that he had talked to Patterson just before leaving home and that Floyd had made no statements on his preference for any particular site and date.

D'Amato is here for talks with either Johansson or his adviser, Edwin Ahlquist. Johansson and Ahlquist made no bones about their annoyance at the way D'Amato handled the first fight in which the handsome Swede won the title. As a result, D'Amato was stripped of his manager's license by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Asked if he considers himself on good terms with Ahlquist now, D'Amato replied: "I think so, but sometimes I wonder."

Yank Intelligence Experts Are Believed To Be Behind Iron Curtain; Were In Cuba

JOE WILL GET NEW AUTO AND MORE CEMENT

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Joe Nelson is going to get a 1948 model automobile to replace his 1946 car which Bob Porter filled with wet concrete.

Also, he's going to get another load of concrete for the driveway he plans to build.

Joe's old car is going to be displayed by the cement company with a sign reading, "We pour cement anywhere."

Joe and Bob shook hands and agreed to let bygones be bygones. The happy ending wound up today an incident which started when Nelson ordered the concrete and it was delivered by Porter. Nelson wasn't home. He claims he cancelled the order several hours before the delivery. The company says he didn't. Porter suspected a joke because he had just won a $20 bet from Joe.

"I guess I just blew my stack," the truck driver said. He dumped the load—all six tons of it—in the back seat of Nelson's car.

Mrs. Nelson commented: "We'd have money enough to buy a new car if we charged admission for all the people who come by to see the car."

Ronnie Stewart, Porter's boss, saw possibilities in the situation and came up with the peace plan, agreeing to finance the whole thing. He isn't even mad at the driver, explaining, "I'm not sure I wouldn't have done the same thing myself."

He did give Bob a talking to, though, about dumping the cement.

Said the driver: "The boss told me, 'Porter—you know this isn't company policy.'"

8 NABBED IN RAID; BAILED
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Eight persons arrested Friday in five Internal Revenue Service gambling raids have waived hearing and have posted bonds ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 to await grand jury action.

Each was charged with failing to register his gambling activities with the IRS and failing to pay the $50 occupational tax stamp.

The raids were conducted without city or state police knowledge by 35 IRS intelligence agents, U. S. Marshall Oliver Metcalf, and five deputies.

Arthur Rinaldi, 42, president of Hancel, Inc., across the street from the Lackawanna County Courthouse here, posted $5,000 bail as did Nicholas and Martha Wedra, owners of the Mid-Valley restaurant in Olyphant, where the raiders said they found 15,000 Treasury balance tickets in a shanty behind the restaurant.

Mike Patchnick, 49, Scranton, and Albert Martini, 40, of Dunmore, each were placed under $5,000 bail was set at $2,000 for Antonio Para Ruiz, 63, of Scranton, and $1,000 each for Joseph MacCaro, 47, Scranton, and James E. Lewis, proprietors of cigar store near the Scranton City Hall.

State Will Probe Voting This Month
HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Senate investigation of voting in Philadelphia may get under way late this month, says the chairman of committee named to make the study.

Sen. William Z. Scott (R—Carbon) said Friday he is trying to line up an agenda and arrange to hold public hearings in the state office building in the Quaker City.

The Senate Republican majority voted over Democratic objections to conduct an investigation to alleged voting irregularities.

Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern said the Justice Department investigation of Philadelphia voting is continuing. She said she expected the checks to lead to indictments.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Reports of possible safety hazards in the natural gas facilities of the strike-bound Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. will be discussed at a meeting here Monday between the Public Utility Commission and company officials.

THE UNSUNG HEROES AND HEROINES

In the first place, they are everywhere! The boot-black, the street corner policeman, the janitor, the cleaning woman, the miner, and scores of their ilk. Then there are the silent mothers, rearing big families, the public school teachers, the village ministers and country doctors.

The ordinary man rarely dreams of all the heroism that there is in the world! Fame and acclaim, after all, amount to very little. The world moves and grows from the summed-up product of its average good man.

And so to those of whom I write, let there be attention paid—and honor—and great glory. Let none of them become discouraged or disappointed because great crowds do not sing praises at their door. In the infinite heavens there will always be an orchestra playing to their worth.

I have in mind a grocerman whose smile does me good. I often think of an office cleaning woman, with four children, whose cheerfulness is an inspiration to my business life. I also think of a mother, tending a nine-month-old baby who belongs to someone else—a father and mother who are ill—though her own heart is torn with grief at the loss of one of her own.

The thing that is constantly saving the world is its silent, unheard-of heroes and heroines. So let us never think that our own lot is hard or too difficult. There are always ones who are much sadder than we—and much more sorely pressed. Let us not keep homage—but give it—to those who so richly deserve it.

The wonderful, most interesting, and lovable people are just—the folks of everyday!

Just Folks

DO YOU?

When you get up in the morning
And the sun is shining bright,
Aren't you grateful to your Maker
For the world is going right?

Don't you have a thankful feeling
That He's spared you to this day,
That He's sent you strength to travel
Further on the upward way?

Don't you feel a wee bit grateful
When you see the sky so blue?
Don't you feel like doing something
When He does so much for you?

When you see the bright sun laughing
As though all the world were gay,
Do you try to be as cheerful?
Do you put your cares away?

POLITICIANS

PREPARE FOR NEW SESSION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Political chiefs began to arrive in Washington today for a bottled-up congressional session expected to feature plenty of political hay-making along with legislative harvesting.

The November election will be in the minds of senators, who convene Monday, and congressmen, who meet a week later, to take up business left undone before the break for the political conventions.

Among the returnees was Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, due in from a campaign tour to Hawaii and back by way of Seattle, Wash.

Major attention will be focused on the Senate, over which Nixon presides and where the membership includes Democratic presidential nominee Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who is majority leader.

The Senate also includes the national chairmen of the two parties—Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky) and Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.).

Members of both parties have called on their opposition to avoid political squabbling or grandstanding and attend to business during the session. But no one figures there won't be politicking.

Asked about reports that Republicans might introduce bills based on the Democratic platform, especially its civil rights plank, Johnson said "I think there are always some Republicans who want to play politics."

Nixon has said the session could "turn into a donnybrook." He called on both parties to take a responsible approach.

He has also indicated doubt that much will be accomplished at the brief session.

troops are not out of his country by the time he returns Monday. Lumumba, on his way back from an aid-seeking mission to the United States, Canada and African countries, previously made gestures toward asking the Soviet Union for military help to oust the Belgians.

Angry East-West debate was expected to erupt when Hammarskjöld goes before the Security Council. The Soviets have served notice they will press their demand that U.N. troops be yanked out and other forces sent in unless the Belgians are ousted at once.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The prestige of the presidency should be brought to bear to help alleviate civil rights controversies, said Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday night.

The vice president, arriving back on the mainland after a torrid two-days of campaigning in the Hawaiian Islands, said he would take the initiative in civil rights matters if elected president. "I don't think it is enough simply to say that we will get Congress to pass (civil rights) laws and then let them lie there," he told a news conference.

Nixon said Atty. Gen. William F. Rogers has been meeting with executives of chain stores whose outlets in the South have been the scene of sit-in demonstrations by Negroes.

This, he said, was an attempt to "take the initiative in such matters—to solve the problem before it goes through" years of legal process.

Let's Look At The Record

REPUBLICANS IN PARADISE
Ex-presidents Review Their Duty To Help Select A Competent Successor

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D., President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

IN PARADISE, ex-Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, William H. Taft, Calvin Coolidge and Thomas Jefferson were sitting in one of the sumptuous, TV reception studios of the American Statesmen's Club. The TV set was tuned to Chicago's Republican Convention. Acceptance speeches had been completed. Ed Murrow was "wrapping up" the broadcast with his customary urbanities.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT: Bully good, if you ask me! Thoroughly, bully!! Hank Lodge must be proud.

CAL COOLIDGE (dryly): Be careful with that word "bully." About time I came up here, all derivations of the word "bully" were taking on a new and hardly complimentary meaning.

JEFFERSON: Ah, yes, word meanings do change. I recall one of Dolly Madison's most beautiful blushe: was when—but I must not bore you gentlemen with idle memories. You are interested in the Republican convention.

TAFT (snapping off the TV): We were, but it's all over. Nixon, as expected; old Hank Lodge's grandson for V.P.

TEDDY: A bully pair! (noting Cal's frown). I mean our Party has fielded the best team available.

JEFF: I'm surprised that the Ghost Control Authority did not give you haunting permits to visit that convention. When I first came up here, they were most liberal in those matters.

TAFT (sadly): All three of us filed requests. They were disapproved. Chicago is temporarily off limits for haunting.

CAL (in charitable tones): I don't think Chicago is in a class with Sodom, Gomorrah, or Nineveh. It must be political.

TEDDY: One of my old Rough Riders has a desk in the Ghost Control Authority. He says it's political. There are too many unexplained Democratic, political and police irregularities in Chicago. It could confuse municipal issues should some superpsychic citizen raise the old poltergeist cry from recognition of Republican ghosts. Paradise must be kept above Earth's criticism or suspicion.

TAFT (with a chuckle): "Paradise Frames Honest Cop." That's a headline that would turn Hearst green with envy!

JEFF (with disapproval): It is such irresponsible, mischievous thoughts, motivating troublesome deeds, that have made such ghost-control agencies as the Ghost Control Authority necessary, even here in Paradise. The least government is the best government. But men, through their own irresponsibilities, always forge chains of governance for their own bondage.

TEDDY (admirably): Bully, Jeff! That was well said. The constancy of your philosophy through two centuries is heartening. As the founder of our Republican party, I salute you.

CAL (imitating the David Brinkley, deadpan, TV cynicism): Two weeks ago in Los Angeles, the Democrats were hailing Jeff as the founder of their party; and saluting him!

JEFF (with a bored smile): With the platforms of both parties almost identical, could anyone question the theory that one man is the father of both parties?

TEDDY: Jeff, historians agree you founded both parties. But are you really a Republican or a Democrat?

CAL: From that similarity of platforms crack, I'm thinking Jeff is one of James G. Blaine's "Mugwumps"—a bird on one side and his wump on the other.

TAFT: Let's get down to present issues, Jeff. You think Eisenhower's naming Nixon, single handed, will defeat him?

JEFF: What does that have to do with it? I named James Madison. Eight years later he named James Monroe. Andrew Jackson rigged the first nationwide convention ever assembled to name Van Buren. Van became the first of a string of single termers who could not get themselves re-elected, hence could not name a successor.

TEDDY: Grant was the next two-term, but he lost control of the Party. Then came some more one-termers and the split, two terms of Cleveland. Bryan's oratory stole party control from him on the Convention floor, but he lost to McKinley.

JEFF (smiling): And that, Teddy, gets it down to you.

TEDDY (scowling at Taft): Yes, I elected Taft just as Ike picked Nixon, but I hope Ike never has the cause to regret.

TAFT (heatedly): But you forget.

JEFF: Tut, tut, tut: remember. Gentlemen have the responsibility of being gentlemen, even within the freedoms of Paradise.

CAL: At end of my second term, I named Hoover—and never regretted it. F.D.R. selected himself three times with Harry as third and last V.P. picking up the pieces. Harry Truman named Stevenson against Ike, but kept it a secret to keep the other hopefuls at work. (Admiringly) Harry knows politics!

JEFF: In other words, gentlemen, it's an old Presidential custom that has the force of administrative duty and unwritten law.

ANNIVERSARY

OF ATOM BOMB IS OBSERVED

TOKYO (AP)—Japan observed today the 15th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima with pleas for banning nuclear weapons.

Crown Prince Akihito attended and delivered a message at a government-approved memorial service in Hiroshima. Some 30,000 persons attended the rally in Peace Park.

In Tokyo, the Communist-dominated World Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs opened a four-day conference at Tokyo Metropolitan Gymnasium militantly denouncing the United States and its allies as the "force of war."

About 100 police scuffled briefly with 50 extreme rightists who demonstrated against the Red-inspired conference. One policeman was injured and three club-swinging demonstrators were arrested.

Ikedo Sends Message

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda sent a message to the Hiroshima rally expressing regret that despite Japan's repeated appeals there still was no halt in the manufacture, stockpiling and testing of nuclear weapons.

"Walk for peace" marchers, organized by the leftist Japan Council against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs, arrived Friday in Tokyo from five directions.

The marchers claimed to have covered 6,000 miles. They included a man who said he had walked three months coming from a small island south of Japan.

In Hiroshima the memorial ceremonies were held in Peace Park where a roofless gutted building stands exactly as it was after the explosion as a symbol of the Hiroshima tragedy.

Hiroshima city fathers were reported considering tearing it down on request from survivors of the blast who complained that the building reminded them of the horror of Aug. 6, 1945.

State Politicians Prove

"Brothers Under The Skin"

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The two presidential nominating conventions proved something about Pennsylvania Republican and Democratic politicians—they are brothers under the skin.

In the different climates of California and Illinois they seemed to operate in their own atmospheric clannishness.

For example: Delegates Gripe Both delegations gripped about the way convention planners handled their arrangements.

The 162-member Democratic delegation at Los Angeles growled about being housed in a Pasadena hotel some 15 miles from the convention site. The growls subsided when they found their accommodations were in a plush suburban retreat far from the downtown crush. A specially heated swimming pool helped.

The 70-member Republican delegation at Chicago muttered about being placed some six city blocks from the hub of convention activity. They grew calmer as they viewed the garble of traffic and humanity at the convention headquarters from the 21st, 22nd and 23rd floors of their hotel

Pirates Blank Giants 1-0 On Uneared Run; Braves Beat Cubs; Cards Bow 3-0

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They gave up on Vinegar Bend Mizell. The experts said he'd never be a winning pitcher.

The St. Louis Cardinals stuck with him eight seasons, hoping each spring he'd come up with that big year. Finally, his patience ran out and last May they peddled him to Pittsburgh.

Friday night Mizell shut out San Francisco 1-0. It was his seventh victory in nine decisions since he joined the league leading Pirates. It also was his second consecutive shutout. He now has a string of 26 successive scoreless innings.

Thanks to Mizell, the Pirates have a four-game bulge over second place Milwaukee, which displaced the Cardinals in the runner-up spot by walloping Chicago's Cubs 10-2. St. Louis, blanked by Cincinnati 3-0, dropped into third place, a half game behind the Braves. Rain washed out the Dodger-Phillies game in Philadelphia.

Uneared Run
An uneared Pittsburgh run in the eighth broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Mizell and Sam Jones. The Giants' ace pitcher had no one to blame but himself. He walked Bill Virdon, leading off the eighth. Then he threw Dick Groat's sacrifice bunt over Blasingame's head at first base. Groat and Blasingame collided and the speedy Virdon raced all the way home before the ball could be retrieved.

Bob Purkey snapped St. Louis' seven-game winning streak, blanking the Cards with four hits for eight innings. Marshall Bridges, in relief, finished the shutout to cement Purkey's 11th victory in 18 decisions. The Reds broke a scoreless tie with an unearned run off Curt Simmons in the sixth.

Every Milwaukee starter except Eddie Mathews hit safely as the Braves walloped four Chicago pitchers for 15 hits including Hank Aaron's 30th home run, tying him with the Cubs' Ernie Banks for the league lead. Lew Burdette, who coasted to his 12th victory, also homered. Del Crandall and rookie Al Spangler had three hits apiece for the Braves who snapped a four-game losing streak.

Big League
Cashtown, leaders of the South Penn Baseball League, edged the Big League All-Stars 2-1 in a well-played exhibition game Friday evening at the Recreation Park field.

A double error enabled Cashtown to tally its winning run in the top of the fourth inning. Bill Singley, Cashtown third baseman, accounted for the other run when he slammed the first pitch of the game for a home run.

Scott Sturgis paced the All-Stars with a pair of singles.

Hildebrand and Solomon divided the pitching for the All Stars and permitted just four hits.

It was announced that two important league games have been rescheduled for next week.

On Monday the Towne Restaurant and Coldsmithe Roofers will meet and the next evening the Roofers will oppose the VFW.

Batting—Don Buddin, Red Sox, tripled home two runs to spark a four-run seventh inning rally that enabled the Red Sox to overcome a 2-0 deficit and defeat the Tigers 4-2.

Runnerup 2 Years Becomes Champion

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—From runner-up to champion, that's the success story of persistent Sharon Fladoos, 17-year-old Dubuque, Iowa, high school senior.

Sharon, after being beaten in the finals the last two years, Friday won her first Women's Western Junior Golf Championship by defeating the national girls titlist, Judy Rand of Aurora, Ohio, 5 and 4.

Sharon was two-under the Glen Flora Country Club par for the 14 holes required and Judy was three over.

BILLY MARTIN IS FINED $500 AND BENCHED

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Batting Billy Martin, backed by Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson, is bitter over a $500 fine and five-day suspension and wants Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to hear his side of the case.

Hutchinson implied that National League President Warren C. Giles was influenced by Martin's past record in firing the Redleg second baseman Friday night. Chicago Cub pitcher Jim Brewer, slugged by Martin, suffered a fractured of the orbit bone below his right eye. He will undergo surgery today.

Hutch put it this way: "Do you think Brewer would have been fined $500 and suspended five days if the fight had gone the other way?"

Charges Unfairness
Martin said he felt he had been "dealt with very unfairly by Mr. Giles. I will ask the commissioner for a hearing. The fight wasn't my fault and I was only protecting myself after he threw at my head."

The fine was one of the largest ever imposed by Giles. Brewer will be out at least a month, and possibly the rest of the season.

The fight came after a pitch by Brewer Thursday caromed off Martin's bat and hit his helmet. On the next pitch, Martin's bat went flying toward the mound and first base.

Favors $1,000 Fine
Billy said when he came out to get the bat, Brewer said, "You want to fight—I'll really give you something."

Martin declared that "to me, that meant I was gonna get punched—so I swung." Then he wondered out loud: "I wonder what would have happened if I had missed?"

Brewer said he merely asked Martin if he wanted to fight and he wasn't expecting the punch.

Cub Manager Lou Boudreau said if he were president, he would fine Martin $1,000 and keep him under suspension until Brewer was able to play.

The league leading Williamsport Grays had things a little more to their liking in the Eastern League Friday night.

They came off a three game losing streak by taking a doubleheader from Lancaster 3-0, 4-1. Reading helped out by defeating the bothersome Binghamton Triplets, 8-6, and now the Grays lead second-place Binghamton by six games.

MIZELL LAUDS BUGS DEFENSE FOR HIS WINS

By MURRAY CHASS
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Stingy Vinegar Bend Mizell says he isn't stingy at all. It's his Pittsburgh Pirate teammates who have made him look that way, he claims.

The southpaw hurler boosted his scoreless string to 26 1/3 innings Friday night with a five-hit 1-0 victory over San Francisco.

"I don't remember ever having as good a stretch as I've had in the past three games," Mizell said. "For one thing, I haven't been as wild lately. But there's another reason for my improved pitching. There's that great defensive play like we had last night."

One of the plays Mizell cited was the catch Roberto Clemente made in the seventh inning. Clemente smashed into the right field wall while catching a long drive by Willie Mays. The Pittsburgh outfielder was forced to leave the game with severe lacerations of the chin.

Other Dazzling Plays
"That boy sure had a lot of guts to go that close to the wall," Mizell said. "He'll never know how much I appreciated that catch. It could've been the turning point in the game. It could have put Mays on second or third with nobody out."

That catch, along with several dazzling plays by centerfielder Bill Virdon, enabled Mizell to notch his second straight shutout. He blanked the Chicago Cubs on two hits last week.

The National League record of 46 1/3 consecutive scoreless innings was set in 1933 by Carl Hubbell of the old New York Giants. The last time anyone scored on Mizell was in San Francisco two weeks ago when Mays tagged him home in the first inning.

Friday night's win also marked his third over the Giants.

Mizell's overall record this season is 8-5, but since coming to the Pirates from St. Louis he is 7-2. "Right now I'm happy to be considered a little something to the ball club," he remarked. "I'll be happy if I can do a good job the rest of the way for them."

DAVIS CUPPERS FACE MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The United States and Mexico meet today in American Zone Davis Cup elimination tennis matches which experts on both sides concede could be decided by a tricky gust of wind.

Barry MacKay of Dayton Ohio, tangles first with 20-year-old Raphael Osuna, Mexico's brightest star of tomorrow who may decide to shine today.

In a second match, teen-age Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, a surprise singles selection, meets Mexico's veteran Marion Llamas.

Mexico has never beaten the United States in Davis Cup play. But even the U.S. team captain, Davis Freed, admits that Mexico has a chance.

INDIANS BEAT ORIOLES 4 TO 3 FOR NEW PILOT

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane has drawn first blood in his recent unprecedented managerial exchange with President Bill DeWitt of the Detroit Tigers.

Making his managerial debut with the Indians following the swap that brought him from Detroit for Joe Gordon, Jimmy Dykes masterminded his new charges to a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

At the same time, Gordon, in his first game at the helm of the Tigers, saw his team go down to a 4-2 defeat by the Boston Red Sox.

Use Bunt Squeeze
The Indians employed a seldom-used weapon—the bunt squeeze—to bring home the winning run. It happened in the seventh inning with the score tied at 3-3. Red Wilson, who had opened with a double, was on third following pitcher Jim Perry's sacrifice.

Johnny Temple laid down a neat bunt and Wilson, running with the pitch, struck the deciding run as pitcher Chuck Estrada had only a play at first base.

Despite the victory, the fourth place Indians still trailed front-running New York by six games as the Yankees increased their lead to 2 1/2 games over second place Chicago by defeating Kansas City 4-3. The White Sox were soundly thrashed by Washington 6-1.

Cleveland's close victory over Baltimore made Perry, the Indians' ace right-hander, the biggest winner in the American League with 13 triumphs. Estrada, the loser, now has an 11-7 record.

A two-run homer by Roger Maris, his 33rd of the season, won for the Yankees but they had to snuff out a ninth inning rally to finish off the Athletics. Trailing 4-1, the A's routed relief pitchers Luis Arroyo and Bob Turley with two runs and had the tying and winning runs on base with two out.

Bobby Shantz took over and got Norm Siebern to fly deep to Maris on the first pitch.

Erase Deficit
A four-run Red Sox outburst in the seventh inning spoiled Gordon's managerial debut with the Tigers. Shortstop Don Buddin tripled home two runs in the rally that wiped out a 2-0 Detroit lead and hung the 10th defeat of the season upon Frank Lary. Ike DeLoach won his sixth game in relief.

The Senators battered Buck Shaw off the mound with a four-run explosion in the first inning and went on to inflict the fifth straight defeat upon the American League defending champions. After retiring the first two batters, Shaw (10-9) walked two batters, then clipped by singles by Faye Thronberry, Bill Gardner and Jim Lemon. Pete Ramos won his seventh with a four-hitter.

GOLFERS BOMB PAR IN TOURNERY

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—After what has happened so far in the $30,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament, it's tough to get anybody to predict the eventual winner of this 72-hole battle.

The leader after 36 holes is Dick Knight, 30-year-old pro from Apply, Valley, Calif., who has posted rounds of 66-67 for a nine-under-par 133 for 36 holes. Only one stroke behind Knight are Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Jack Fleck of Los Angeles.

Only a few strokes separates Knight from some of the world's greatest golfers including Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Doug Ford and Gene Littler.

Palmer improved his position Friday and now trails by five strokes.

EXPANSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE
HITS OBSTACLE

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—The proposed major league baseball expansion plan already has run into a snag and Los Angeles Dodgers owner Walter O'Malley today loomed as the key man if the snarl is to be untangled.

Dan Topping, co-owner of the New York Yankees, said Friday he would fight the expansion move unless an American League club is placed in Los Angeles.

"New York is the crux of the National League expansion plan," thundered Topping, "and Los Angeles emphatically must figure in the coast-to-coast realignment on our side."

Up To O'Malley
This puts things pretty much up to O'Malley. He said he was surprised at Topping's statement and would have no comment.

But his feelings on the matter are no secret. O'Malley does not want an American League team in Los Angeles until his new park is built in Chavez Ravine. That would be in 1962. He thinks he has spent a lot of money to build up a following in Los Angeles and sees no reason why another club should ride his coattails.

When the new park is built, O'Malley will be perfectly happy to have an American League team in Los Angeles, not only to build rivalry, but to pay its way as a tenant in the new park.

While no mention of Los Angeles was made following the expansion announcement earlier in the week, it is known that the American League has been eager to get a team there.

37 DIVERS TO REPRESENT U.S. IN OLYMPICS

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The finest swimming and diving stars in the land, 37 strong, will carry the United States' hopes into the 1960 Olympic Games with renewed hope of bringing the international honors back to home soil.

The last 24 members of the U.S. team were selected Friday after four days and nights of grueling competition in which the new Olympians shattered three world and four American records.

The Olympic-bound athletes range from diving star Juno Stover Irwin, the 31-year-old mother of four, to 13-year-old Donna de Varona.

Other Teeners Star
The baby-faced De Varona youngster of Lafayette, Calif., is the world record holder in the 400-meters individual medley relay.

Three more teenagers had a hand in the record-smashing. Mike Troy, 19-year-old Indiana University sophomore, bettered his own world mark in the 200-meters butterfly.

Look-alikes Chris von Saltza and Lynn Burke set world standards—Miss Burke in the 100-meters backstroke and Miss Von Saltza in the 400-meters freestyle.

Baroness Chris was one of five double-qualifiers in the U.S. trials that closed dramatic run at Brennan Pools Friday night.

Wins 100-Meter
She also won the 100-meter freestyle. Paula Jean Pope, a 25-year-old California housewife, completed a double slam in the diving by taking first place in both the platform and springboard events.

Another Indiana star, Alan Somers, streaked to a double victory in the distance freestyle events. Gary Tobian, University of Southern California senior, earned a double berth by placing second to Sam Hall in the springboard and second to Bob Webster in the platform.

A 14-year-old from Portland, Ore., Carolyn Wood, was the other double qualifier, winning the 100-meters butterfly and finishing second in the 100-meters freestyle.

The Olympic swimming competition begins in Rome in late August. The women's team departed today for a week of workouts at Roslyn, N.Y. The men will train at Michigan State University and the entire squad will leave New York a week from today.

Zettle Urges Producers To Appraise Lamb Crop

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Now is a good time for the producer of market lambs to appraise his lamb crop. Appraisal can be made by answering these questions:

Are the lambs uniform; are they thick with deep bodies, short necks and short legs; are they gaining as rapidly as they should and will they be ready for market at 150 days of age or less?

If your answer is "yes" to all of these questions you are doing a very good job of breeding, feeding and general management in your sheep production program.

Further Appraisal
For those who can't give "yes" answers, further appraisal of the breeding program should be made.

Are you using a purebred ram? Farm figures analyzed some years ago on 15,000 commercial ewes show that purebred rams must be used to make the most out of a sheep program. In the study, lambs sired by purebred rams sold for 10 per cent more per head than lambs sired by grade rams. This increased value came from two sources; lambs were heavier and graded higher.

Pasture Supplement
Scant pastures in summer mean a short feed supply for many beef cattle producers. As a result, cows and their calves go into winter in a thin, run-down condition and require extra feed to get back into condition.

If pastures are so scant that the herd is losing condition, they should be supplemented, perhaps in one of the following ways:

Feed only hay remaining from the previous year. (Left-over hay and silage that is one or two years old has a much lower vitamin content than new hay or silage.) Feed hay on pasture from movable hay racks that can be pulled from one location to another. Silage, either corn or grass, can be fed when pasture is short; also fresh grass or corn may be cut and hauled regularly to the cattle. Grain can be fed, but, unless the supply is plentiful, feeding roughage usually proves more economical.

Summer Egg Production
Late summer eggs are among the year's higher priced eggs. Large eggs command a much greater spread in price over smaller eggs as the supply becomes less in late summer. Fowls nearing the close of their laying year are still laying large eggs. Good management helps these better layers maintain a profitable rate of production.

Good housing, ample ventilation over the floor and about the roosting hens at night assure comfort. Battling lice and mites help hens convert feed into eggs and meat rather than supporting the parasites. Watching feed consumption and body weight helps the poultryman keep good layers in health and condition for their important job. Ample feeder space and feeders that the hens find it easy to eat from promote greater feed consumption.

FIX PRICES FOR LOW FAT DAIRY PRODUCT IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new low butterfat dairy product will go on sale in the Pittsburgh milk marketing area Aug. 10.

The State Milk Control Commission Wednesday gave final approval to its tentative order establishing prices for the product, never before sold in Pennsylvania.

The price in effect during most of the year will be 43 cents per half gallon at the store and 45 cents if Vitamins A and D are added.

From April through July, months when milk is plentiful, the price would be cut to 41 cents for a half gallon of the regular low butterfat milk product and 43 cents if Vitamins A and D are added.

Will Be Marked
The price for home-delivered milk will be three cents per half gallon higher in each classification.

The butterfat content of the product ranges from 1.75 per cent to 2.25 per cent.

Whole milk—which ranges from a butterfat content of 3.25 to 4.0—presently retails for 51 cents per half gallon.

Each carton or bottle of the low butterfat product will have to be plainly marked with the words "low fat milk product."

HONG KONG (AP)—The U.S. Navy announced Friday a Marine battalion landing team is being assigned to duty afloat in Asian waters "to further readiness of the 7th Fleet."

The announcement did not suggest the move was motivated by any new emergency. It appeared to be part of long-range U.S. planning.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican government showed a marked lack of enthusiasm Wednesday night toward a report that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev plans to attend the 15th anniversary celebration of Mexican independence Sept. 16.

Sources at U. N. headquarters in New York said the travel-ministered Soviet premier had notified the Mexican government he would represent the Kremlin at the celebration.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean government Friday voted an award of 10 million hwan—$15,380 at the official exchange rate—to the North Korean pilot who defected in his MIG-15 Wednesday.

Prime Minister Huh Chung and his cabinet decided to give further study to a proposal to give the pilot, 2nd Lt. Chung Nak-Hyun, 24, a decoration and a scholarship. The pilot is still being questioned by U. S. and South Korean intelligence officers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen years after the death of rocket pioneer Robert H. Goddard, the government has agreed to pay a million dollars for infringing on his patents.

The money, with the consent of Dr. Goddard's widow, will go to the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation in New York—a non-profit organization which financed most of the inventor's research between 1930 and 1941.

NEW YORK (AP) — A young machinist who admitted raping a clergyman's wife in a subway station has been sentenced to 10 to 20 years in prison—the maximum under law.

Anthony Durant, 21, a Negro, had pleaded guilty to the Feb. 24 rape and robbery of Doris Hostetter on a deserted subway station platform in midtown Manhattan.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States will try again next Tuesday to launch a 100-foot balloon communications satellite into orbit about the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday it believes it has solved rocket troubles that ruined the first attempt last May 9. This effort failed because of a malfunction of control jets in the upper stages of the Thor-Delta carrier rocket.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A 17-year-old white girl told police that she was raped by four Negro youths late Thursday night as she and a teen-age boyfriend sat in a parked car on an isolated ridge near here.

Officers said the boyfriend and the girl told them the Negroes took turns holding the boy while the girl was raped. They described one of the Negroes as 6 feet tall and wearing a knotted bandana around his head.

SOUTH WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Navy experts took off today on a 10-day test of a rescue system that would allow a man to be picked up from the ground by a plane speeding at 150 miles an hour.

URGE POLIO SHOTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service, reporting paralytic polio cases on the increase, issued an urgent appeal Friday for a speedup of polio vaccinations.

The service listed 78 paralytic cases last week. This compared with 69 in the previous week and continues a rise shown for several weeks.

It has been estimated that New York City has 1,700 Protestant churches, 1,247 Jewish temples and 445 Roman Catholic churches.

Vegetables Can Add Taste And Color To Cookout Meal

By MRS. HELEN TUNISON
Home Economist

Vegetables for your cookout meal can be tasty and colorful besides adding variety. Rich in minerals and vitamins, vegetables will help to make the good meal better.

When securely wrapped in roomy packets of aluminum foil fresh or frozen vegetables cook perfectly on a grill or near coals.

Vegetables suitable for this method of cooking include carrots, potatoes, corn on the cob, zucchini squash, small whole onions, and eggplant. Thaw frozen vegetables only enough to break into chunks before placing them in the foil packets.

For crunchy finger foods, strips, wedges, and buds of crisp vegetables, such as carrots, celery, lettuce, cauliflower, tomatoes, green pepper, and white turnips, give chewing goodness.

A salad of cooked or raw vegetables or a combination of both is an excellent addition to any outdoor meal.

Kabobs using vegetable alternated with chunks of meat may be grilled or broiled over the coals. An improved flavor results if the vegetables, except tomatoes, are parboiled a few minutes, then marinated before putting on the skewer.

Onions, green pepper, mushrooms, tomatoes, and eggplant are perfect for kabobs.

Nylon Qualities
Nylon, one of the man-made fibers, is the generic or family name of a fiber group set up under the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act. The Act, which became effective March 3 of this year, requires that each textile fiber product be labeled with the generic names and percentages by weight of the fibers in the product.

The nylon group now includes fibers having the trade names of Caprolan and Mylenka. Because of its versatile character, nylon has many uses. It may be spun into a smooth filament or into a stretchable yarn, depending upon the process used. Nylon fabrics have high wrinkle resistance and crease recovery. Fabrics may be pleated and permanently heat set.

Undesirable Qualities
Nylon has some less desirable qualities. It is sensitive to heat and so requires a low temperature when pressing is needed. Nylon may be weakened by exposure to strong sunlight, may yellow from age, and white nylon picks up color when washed with colored fabrics. To keep white nylons white, they should be laundered separately and rinsed thoroughly.

Nylon is easily stained by oils and greases, and badly soiled areas, such as collars and cuffs, should be pretreated with liquid detergent before laundering.

It's good common sense to read labels on nylon ready-to-wear and yard goods for care recommendations, then follow the instructions.

Home Study Course

Do you plan meals ahead for extra busy days or unexpected guests? Your freezer can help you meet these emergencies. But there are a few tricks to freezing cooked and prepared foods so they will taste good after several months storage.

Among the tricks are: Plan to cook the part of the food you freeze until almost done, not completely done. The food will finish cooking while it is heating before serving.

Make cream sauces of half meat or chicken broth because an all milk sauce tends to curdle when frozen. Add cheese and crumb toppings when heating the food. Salt and chili gradually lose their flavor in storage so add these seasonings when heating the food.

To take the guesswork out of freezing, the Pennsylvania State University offers a correspondence course on food preservation. Besides explaining how to freeze fresh and prepared foods, it reveals the secrets of turning out tender, clear jelly without fear of failure. Also the course lessons give recipes for making tempting jars of pickles that can't be found on the market.

To obtain this five-lesson course, "Canning and Food Preservation," send $1.25 to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. Check or money order should be made payable to The Pennsylvania State University.

Munich Cardinal Lauds NATO Troops

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Joseph Cardinal Wendel Friday told 5,000 soldiers of Europe's NATO nations that they "are preserving the freedom of Christians to drink from the well of life through Christ."

To many who heard him, his words were considered an answer to Communist charges that the Roman Catholic Church's 37th world eucharistic congress here is a military assembly of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations.

The cardinal, archbishop of Munich and promoter of the congress, spoke to the assembled troops under cloudy skies on a hill made of Munich's World War II rubble, now covered by grass and trees. It overlooks this Bavarian capital.

Cardinal Wendel is the Roman Catholic military vicar for West Germany's armed forces.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York and the Roman Catholic military vicar for U. S. armed forces, celebrated Mass for American soldiers on a football field.

NEW PARKING LOT

HARRISBURG (AP) — Loew's Regent Theater, one of four downtown Harrisburg movie houses, has been sold to a parking lot firm.

Sale of the theater and two adjoining buildings to Central Parking, Inc., was announced Thursday. Terms weren't disclosed but three banks agreed to take mortgages totaling $675,000.

John B. Delaney, president of Central Parking, said the theater would be closed at the end of the month and razed to make way for a parking lot. Business buildings may be erected later on the site, extra busy days or unexpected

Letter To The Editor

R. 4
Gettysburg, Pa.

The Editor
The Gettysburg Times

Dear Sir:
The July 9th issue of The Gettysburg Times reported that at the July meeting of the board of the Adams County Free Library, the directors discussed the need "to keep a closer check on selection and book purchasing at the county library."

I wonder if the members of the board have any intelligent idea of the amount of time the librarian and her staff devote to this important matter? Do they know how many hours are spent in reading book reviews from many sources; in studying American Library Association Bulletins; in drawing up lists of books which the library should have, and then revising, cutting down those lists to fit the limited budget?

"An elderly reader . . . complained that . . . modern novels circulated by the library contained a lot of trash." Maybe so. But who is to say what is trash for you—or for me? Mysteries and Westerns are the most widely read books in the library here and throughout the country, and yet many people consider them trash.

To others, Faulkner's novels and Tennessee Williams' plays are trash.

A public library exists to serve the public, all the public, whose taste will range from Saigon to Shakespeare and from Dickens to Dostoevski.

As a past employee of the library and a constant borrower of its books, I have had ample opportunity to observe Mrs. Wilson carrying out the duties of the librarian for our community. Her excellent judgment in the selection of books has made our library second to none of its class. Her unflagging interest in the library and her tireless efforts to improve its facilities are a continual inspiration to those who work with her as well as to those who make use of its resources.

I note further that the board found no volunteers to serve on a committee "about a committee." I doubt that they will. I sincerely hope they will not.

Yours very truly,
(Mrs. E. J.) Madeleine Killalea

Woman Voters Make Prospective First Lady A Campaign Issue

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Politicians totting up the vital factors in electing their man to the presidency linger over such things as party, platform, personality.

If they're shrewd, they add the candidate's wife.

A charming woman, good-looking enough to attract men's interest, yet with the unassuming domesticity to win over the more critical feminine voters, is an asset not to be underestimated.

Outnumber Men At Polls

Now that women outnumber men at the polls, the potential first lady might seem an even more important consideration.

Women cast their ballots for a man, but they understand all about petticoat power in the privacy of the home. They've got it figured that after the shouting and the tumult dies, the leader who's larger than life goes home to become a human-sized father and a husband who listens respectfully to his wife's opinions.

Back when women were ladies and left political issues to the menfolk—at least publicly—candidates wives mostly stayed home, kept the roof patched over the children's heads and pondered with mingled delight and dread the prospect of living in the presidential mansion.

Abigail Influential

Some exerted influence in quiet ways. Abigail Adams never took to a soapbox, but she probably did more than anybody to get John Adams elected the second U.S. president. Considered by many a better statesman, she gave him the benefit of her keen intelligence in private.

Abigail was practical, too, and not easily overawed. The first first lady to live in the White House, she hung out her washing in its great unfinished audience room.

Other Notable Wives

About eight decades later, Lucretia Garfield worked by the side of her husband, James, all that summer before he was elected. Telegraph linemen ran special wires to the shed that Garfield had made into an office. Their farm in Mentor, Ohio, became a little city of reporters, political leaders and well wishers. While Garfield gave out interviews and wrote letters, Lucretia fed, entertained and provided lodging for the troops of visitors. Forty years after that, another Ohioan, Warren G. Harding, was elected president. His wife, Florence, who had made a financial success of his newspaper, also was credited widely with moving him into the White House.

Lutherans Rejoice With Ram's Horns

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The American Lutheran Church, formed recently by the three-way Lutheran merger, is using 5,000 ram's horns in celebrating its first year of existence.

The ancient Hebrew instruments, called shofars, were distributed to the new church's congregations for sounding on various special occasions during the denomination's beginning "Year of Jubilee."

TO MANAGE HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John A. Doering will succeed Dr. Earl P. Brannon as manager of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Coatesville, Pa.

The VA announced Thursday that Brannon is being transferred to the agency's Augusta, Ga., hospital where he will serve as manager. Doering has been serving in a similar position at VA's Roseburg, Ore., hospital.

SWIMMER SAVED

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fast work by another swimmer saved Trudy Kessler, 9, when her left arm was sucked into a swimming pool drain pipe.

Jim Pader held the girl's head above water and a pool attendant began lowering the water level. Firemen were unable to free Trudy's swollen arm, so the pipe rim was unscrewed. It was sawed off at a hospital.

"The Star Spangled Banner" actually is a poem sung to a tune called "Anacreon in Heaven."

Miss Elaine Basehoar spoke about her recent European travels. She was a member of the group of local young people who returned from a 47-day tour in Europe last Friday.

President Clyde W. Crouse presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served by George Basehoar. The next meeting will be held September 1. The social committee comprises President Crouse and Thomas L. Cookson Jr.

Wendy Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Reynolds, N. Queen St., was the recipient of the miniature Corvette given by the Village Chevrolet, Inc., of town.

KINDERGARTEN OPENS SEPT. 19

LITTLESTOWN—The fall semester of the kindergarten at St. Paul's Lutheran Church will begin September 19 at 9 a.m. The weekday school is for children of the community who are four, five or six years of age. Tuition is $4 a week. Children may be registered with the church secretary, Mrs. William R. Keefer, by calling the church office Tuesday or Thursday mornings.

St. Paul's Church is considering conducting a weekday church school class for first graders, which will meet for one hour each week. There will be no tuition, but a free will offering will be received to help pay for the textbooks and other expenses. Parents of interested first graders may call Mrs. Keefer.

Beginning Sunday the Rev. Lawrence H. Roller, pastor, will teach an adult instruction class during the Sunday School hour. The class will be held in the ladies' adult choir room. It will study the teachings of the Lutheran Church. It is open to all adults.

A large crowd attended the Alpha Fire Company carnival Friday evening on the community playground. Entertainment was by the Oklahoma Travelers.

The 75th anniversary parade will be held at 4 p.m. today, with approximately 140 units participating. A concert by the Littlestown High School Blue Band will be presented following the parade on the carnival grounds. The Collegians, of Baltimore, will entertain this evening.

Two Youngsters Are Suffocated

CARLTON, Pa. (AP) — Two youngsters suffocated Friday night after a sand bank collapsed and sent piles of loose sand tumbling over them.

Raymond Price, 9, of Carlton in Mercer County, and Daniel L. Shaw Jr., 8, of Wayne Twp., in Crawford County, were almost completely buried by the sand.

Mrs. Lawrence O. Price, mother of one of the victims, found the bodies of the two boys about an hour after they had gone out to play. They were buried near the Price home.

Police theorized that the boys were digging a tunnel when the sides of the bank caved-in. The Lashaw boy had been visiting his Prices. Both boys were students in the third grade at the nearby Cochran Grade School.

The southernmost town in the United States is Naalehu on the island of Hawaii.

RAINS, WIND LASH AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thunderstorms dampened much of the country today and gave portions of the Plains and the Mississippi Valley a heavy sloshing.

Locally severe weather hit sections of Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri.

A six-hour, wind-whipped downpour in Omaha, Neb., during the night dumped nearly 3 inches of rain across the area. Winds were clocked at 67 miles an hour. Des Moines, Iowa, measured a 1¾-inch rain and heavy thundershowers cracked across Missouri.

Rainfall elsewhere was generally light. The damp weather extended from the northern Rockies into the northern and central Plains, the middle Mississippi Valley and parts of the Atlantic Coast.

EMMITSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shorb observed their 24th wedding anniversary Monday. Mr. Shorb also observed his birthday on the same day.

Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers have returned home after vacationing in New England last week. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Pius Kelly and son, Ricky.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold was baptized Sunday afternoon at St. Joseph's Church. Sponsors were Rebecca and Michael Kelly, cousins of the baby, from Newry, Pa. The baby received the name, Teresa Ann.

Isolated showers sprinkled southern Florida and the southern plateau.

Early morning temperatures were in the seasonal 60s and 70s southward from the northern tier of states and ranged into the 90s in the Southwest.

Governor Reviews Infantry Division

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)

Gov. Lawrence today told Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division that "the strength of our national guard and our other military forces is of paramount importance in these times of turmoil abroad." Following a review of the division at the annual Governor's Day observance, Lawrence congratulated the officers and men of the 28th for the progress made in the year since the division was reorganized under the pentomic concept, designed to give the division tomic capability.

"You have shown a high degree of skill in your past performance. And the spirit of this corps is now very nearly at its highest peak," he said.

The entire division marched in review before Lawrence, top ranking military men and civic leaders. The ceremony marked the end of the first half of the division's annual two week tour

For each second a commercial is seen by the TV viewer, there have been many days of behind-the-scenes effort.

Can You Milk A Cow, Feed Chickens, Handle A Tractor?

By JAMES McMAHON

If you can milk a cow, feed the chickens, handle a tractor, plant a crop, paint a barn and bake bread, you may have the qualifications to become a successful film and television star. In any event, these were the early occupations of Donna Reed, star of "The Donna Reed Show" ABC-TV, on her father's farm in Denison, Iowa.

"It was hard work on the farm, and there were years that were so busy, when the chores were combined with the job of painting the house and the barn, for instance, that I never thought anything could be more strenuous or more time consuming until I started work on TV.

5 Rehearsals A Week

"Our filming schedule calls for rehearsals on Fridays and Mondays. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays are shooting days — 12-hour days. On rehearsal days I get away from the studio about three in the afternoon, rush home and make dinner for the family. If I'm not working on one episode I'm busy learning the one for the following week. By the time I get home from work on a shooting day, it is 7:30. Then dinner takes us to 8:30, and about one hour of script homework, I'm ready for bed.

"I suppose my early life on the farm has been a great asset in this case. Early to bed and early to rise is routine when you're doing a TV series as well as on the farm.

"I'm up each day at 7 a.m. in order to have one and a half hours for hairdressing and make-up. We start shooting at 9 each morning.

Work 12 Hours A Day

"At first when the series was first sold, I started working 12 hours a day for 39 straight weeks. I kept yearning for those good

"Beyond Mombasa" and "The Whole Truth."

Acting Stature Soars

After "Eternity," however, Donna's acting stature in Hollywood took wings. She became selective with new material and was in popular demand by pediatrician with two children who live in an American community, Donna says, "We have our problems, laughs and, above all, our need for love and friendship."

"When I first started the show," she says, "it was like going to the previous day's work."

Donna and Tony were married in June, 1945. Today they live in a black and white Regency house in the heart of Beverly Hills with their four children: Penny Jane, 14; Tony Jr., 13; Timothy, 11, and Mary, 3.

Since the start of her TV series, Donna has been a nominee for a TV Guide Award and for an Emmy Award. She has also been the subject of a "This Is Your Life" stanza. Also, in this man's world of TV Westerns and Private Eyes, Donna has the distinction of being one of the few female successful television performers with her own series.

"The Donna Reed Show" also received a special citation from the American Mothers Committee for the outstanding portrayal of the life of a family.

Donna Reed with Esther Williams as guest star on "The Donna Reed Show" old lazy times in motion pictures. But now I love the work, love the pace and love the results.

"TV is hard work, yes," notes Donna, "but I've never had such acting fun in all my life.

"In motion pictures I usually was the sweet wife next door with an apron around my waist who kissed hubby goodbye in the morning. Except for my one 'bad girl' part in 'From Here To Eternity' that was my niche in movies."

Prior to her Academy-winning portrayal in "Eternity," Donna refers to her acting career as one filled with "namby-pamby" parts. As a contract M-G-M actress, she performed in a number of Andy Hardy and Dr. Gillespie movies. Among her motion picture credits are "Shadow Of The Thin Man," "The Human Comedy," "As Thousands Cheer," "The Picture Of Dorian Gray," "Backlash," all Hollywood producers. The producer with the inside track was husband, Tony Own, with whom Donna had always dreamed of teaming. Together they formed Todon Productions, which, in association with Screen Gems, produces "The Donna Reed Show."

Donna had longed for the time that she and Tony could find the proper vehicle upon which to base suitable TV fare — the kind that would serve as entertainment for an entire family.

"The solution was quite simple," Donna says. "My husband and I wanted to find a series in which I could play me. The result was 'The Donna Reed Show.'"

"We Have Problems"

Donna explains, "The series is more like my life might have been had I never left my hometown of Denison, Iowa."

As the wife of a young school. I learned something new every day. I had never done comedy. In the movies I had done a few light scenes, but never any real comedy. Comedy in our show is real fun — light, gay — and the high mood stays with you. It's easy to sustain it."

How does Donna feel about having her husband as her boss?

Doesn't Ask Privileges

"Because Tony's my husband I don't ask for any special privileges, and it's a good thing, because he wouldn't give me any. He keeps reminding me that I can be replaced. Maybe on the show but not in his heart, I hope. Tony is a good boss. Every Monday morning he sends me a huge bouquet of flowers which I think is a very lovely way to usher in the work on a new TV episode. We drive to and from work together, have lunch together and each day watch screenings of

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By Marshall Tuckey

We'll bet you have never taken the time to look up Noah Webster's definition of the word, "Epicure," and since you will from time to time find it used in our little column, here is how Noah defines it: "A person who has a refined taste in eating and who cares much about food."

Zasu Pitts Stars For Gale Storm

Fluttery-handed ZaSu Pitts is one of the most readily-recognized comedy stars in show business. Her continual air of dismay, the look of futility and her flighty "Oh, dear" have evoked more chuckles from audiences than reams of dialogue.

In the role of Nugey, the beauty salon operator aboard an ocean going luxury liner in ABC-TV's "The Gale Storm Show," ZaSu has a great opportunity to display her comedy talents as a foil to the star Gale Storm.

Now an established comedienne and a favorite of millions, ZaSu actually began her career as a serious actress. Her first theatrical appearance was in a Mary Pickford film, "The Little Princess," and a succession of serious roles in motion pictures followed.

A SMILE A MINUTE

Peggy Castle of "Lawman" tells of the bore who was completely cured after he'd been talking to himself for awhile!

Henry Morgan of "I've Got A Secret" says that with the clothes the gals wear today they aren't even able to hide their embarrassment!

Tom Poston of "To Tell The Truth" says the difference between a rich man and a beautiful girl is that he's got what it takes and she takes what he's got!
